Dear Admin

Thanks for your PM reply of 19 October, which I have just seen today.

First, a bit of background:

I am one of the partners in Crete Complete Property. There is a Chania court hearing set for December 14 this year, at which ourselves and a Mr John Houston of Achandunie, Ardross, Ross-shire, Scotland are on opposing sides. For legal reasons, I cannot write more about this hearing at this stage.

John Houston joined the BritsinCrete forum on March 9 2011, using the name of his wife 'tishie' - however, from the style of the postings (and signature on two of those) it is clear that it is in fact Mr Houston making postings on your forum. The only postings he has made, comprise negative and damaging comments about Crete Complete Property. In effect, he is using your forum to carry out a one-man vendetta in advance of the court hearing.

I believe that several of these comments are damaging and/or libellous, both to Crete Complete Property and the partners as individuals. In addition, he is making these comments in public in advance of the court hearing (which of course is sub judice), and his attempts to damage the public perception of individuals can also be construed as contempt of court.

Because of the 5000 character limit on PMs, I have sent the relevant forum postings in separate PMs. I have marked the postings considered damaging/libellous with '', and would be grateful if you would delete them from the BritsInCrete forum immediately.

Thanks in advance,

Stuart Simon

Hi

He told me yesterday. I don't know the address but it is in the middle square, where the buses go from, and then go along the street where all the shops are and it is near the end of the road.

Crete Complete Property - Kistelie Crete,

Has anyone seen any messages posted by this company as to why they have closed their Kistelie Office, have they posted any notices as to why they are moving and have they notified any clients they may have, very suspicious?? <sad>

 Specifically states 'very suspicious' - damaging/libellous **

Crete Complete Property Kistilie Crete,

Has anyone as yet been given a logical reason as to why this company has departed their Kistelie office? Have they notified any clients they may have and, have they informed the Association of their actions ??

Why is Crete Complete Property,s Web Site still running There gone ?

Sep 4th, 2011 at 10:13am

From tishie

The partners in this company have parted they are no longer at the stipulated address why are they allowed to advertise under these circumstances?? <angry>

 The office address on the website was changed long before this posting was made, this is a deliberately provocative and damaging posting **

 'Why are they allowed to advertise under these circumstances??' - this is alleging an illegal action: damaging/libellous **

 The <angry> icon implies anger for some reason with Crete Complete Property - damaging/libellous **

Because shortly it shall be up and running again I believe with just one of the partners, when it has been sorted.

That's all the info I have.

You seem to regularly ask questions on this forum about them. Why don't you ask them your questions directly on their email address info@crete-perfect-home.com ?"
